Fraternity Women In Washington Will Meet At Luncheon

President Marvin Will Address
Gathering at Mayflower
January 23

As the first step in an effort to organize a Panhellenic Association of the District of Columbia, and to usher in the Bi-Centennial year, a Panhellenic Luncheon will be held at the Mayflower Saturday, January 23. Invitations have been extended to approximately 1800 fraternity women, active and alumnae members residing in Washington, of sororities on National Panhellenic Council.

This will be the first Panhellenic meeting ever to be held in Washington. President Cloyd Heck Marvin will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Marvin, who is a Delta Gamma, is among the prominent fraternity women who have already accepted.

A committee of one representative from each of 21 women's fraternities in the National Panhellenic Congress, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Nesbitt, president of the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club, is planning the luncheon.

Reservations for this luncheon should be made with Maude I. O'Flaherty, whose business address is Building H, The George Washington University, by January 18. The price of the luncheon is $1.25.

The suggestion for this Panhellenic Luncheon came from the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club, which had planned to hold a luncheon in January as a Bi-Centennial celebration to which a representative from each of the alumnae organizations of Panhellenic sororities in the city, was to be invited. This was expanded to planning a luncheon

Panhellenic Pledge Council Will Meet

Berryman and White Will Speak at First Independent Meeting

The Panhellenic Pledge Council will hold its first independent meeting today at noon in Corcoran Hall 16. At this meeting Louise Berryman, president of the Panhellenic Council, and Grace White, Zeta Tau delegate to Pannel, will speak to the Freshman Council.

Columbian Women Create Scholarship

New Fund Established to Inaugurate
Fourth Women's Scholarship

The sum of $500 is to be turned over at once to the George Washington University by the Columbian Women for the purpose of inaugurating a fourth Columbian Women Scholarship fund. This action was voted at the meeting on last Tuesday, January 5, following the report of Mrs. William Carl Ruediger, chairman of the Scholarship Committee.

Mrs. Ruediger outlined the history of Columbian Women's scholarship work, telling of the three complete funds—the Nellie Maynard Knapp Scholarship, the Founders of Columbian Women Scholarship and the Lillian Young Heron Scholarship—already established, and of the three partial funds which are administered by Columbian Women—the Elizabeth V. Brown Scholarship Fund, the College Women's Scholarship Fund, and the Lewes D. and Myrtle H. Wilson Scholarship Fund.

It is the hope of the organization that this new fund may be completed within a short time, enabling Columbian Women to maintain four young women in the University each year on full scholarships, and to assist three others with partial scholarships.

Albert L. Harris Lectures Before Art School Group

Albert L. Harris, municipal architect, lectured before the art school last Thursday night on the subject, "The Business of Architecture." Following the lecture refreshments were served.

Le Cercle Francais Adopts New Monthly Meeting Plan

Le Cercle Francais has adopted a new principle this year. There will be in addition to the regular monthly business meeting a social meeting at which a guest speaker will talk in French to the members. At these meetings the members will speak nothing but French.

The club has already given a tea for rushees. Those who attended were voted in and extended invitations to membership. Before a student can become a member it is necessary to maintain an average of "B" in French classes.

Professor Irene Cornwell is the advisor of Le Cercle Francais and the members have elected Marie Siegrist, president; Marion Zeigler, vice president; and Donald Brewer, secretary-treasurer.

Economic Sessions To Be Inaugurated By Student Group

Commerce Fraternity Announces Plans for Series of Bi-Monthly Round
Table Conferences

Inauguration of a series of glorified "bull sessions" devoted to commercial and economic questions will be made next week by a group of George Washington University students.

Operating under the euphonic name of "round table conferences" members of the Commerce and Economics Fraternity plan to meet at least twice a month to discuss aspects of economic problems untouched by classroom lectures.

Unlike most "gab fests" the sessions sponsored by the commerce organization will be planned in advance. At the initial "round table" meeting on Monday, January 18, the subject will be "The Economics of the Manchurian Situation."

That subject will be followed by three others. Fred Joiner will discuss Far Eastern railroads, Leslie Conley the industrial and agricultural make-up of Manchuria, and Lawrence Parker will speak briefly on the political and military angle. Then for an indefinite time the session will be a "free-for-all." Richard C. Marks will be chairman.

"By these informal discussions we hope to get at the root of some of the major economic problems confronting the world today," G. Douglas Taylor, president of the fraternity, said in announcing the conferences. "If the sessions prove profitable for our members we hope to enlarge their scope to include all persons at the university who are interested in such questions."

"No outside speakers will be scheduled since we want to encourage our members to investigate and to think and to speak authoritatively on fundamental and current matters of economic importance. These sessions will be held in addition to our regular fraternity program meetings."

The first round table next Monday night will be held at 8 o'clock at the apartment of Mr. Parker, No. 304, The Park Lane. Faculty members have been invited to attend and to meet the students on their own grounds.

Liberal Club Hears White and Sprowls

Speakers Address Two Meetings; Delegates Attend Conference

Dr. A. B. White, assistant director of the Food and Drug Administration of the Department of Agriculture, outlined the history of food and drug regulation in a talk before the Liberal Club last Saturday night. With the constant introduction of more and more complicated foods, the task of the Department of Agriculture in enforcing the Pure Food laws is becoming almost impossible. This administration employs 500 men and operates 18 stations scattered over the country.

Wednesday night, Dr. Jesse Sprowls, professor of psychology at the University of Maryland, addressed the Liberal Club on the subject "Cogito ergo sum—I think, therefore I am." The various schools of psychology and their viewpoints were presented. According to Dr. Sprowls, all of the schools of thought have much in common.

Donald A. Smith, of Bates College, Maine, was elected chairman of the Intercollegiate Council of the League for Industrial Democracy for the coming year at their annual conference in New York City, December 28-30. Morris Sussman and Robert Shostek were the delegates from the George Washington University Club. The league, which goes under the name of the League for Industrial Democracy, had as their topic of discussion at this conference, "Guiding the Revolution."

Fraternity Council Plans Dollar Dance

Will Follow Basketball Game;
Charlie Wright's Band to Be Featured

A Dollar Dance will be given by the Interfraternity Council, Saturday, January 16, from 9 to 12 p. m. in Corcoran Hall 10 immediately following the G. W. Villanova basketball game. This will be the first of a series of dances to be given after the more important varsity games this season. Members of both teams and coaching staff are invited to attend as guests of the Council.

Something new in the way of music has been announced by the dance committee which has succeeded in procuring the services of Charley Wright's Band for the evening. Charley Wright, who has a unit in Herb Gordon's Whispering Orchestra, will lead his own band, and promises to provide excellent music for the function. A versatile performer himself, Charley alternates between the fiddle and the accordion, doing specialty numbers on the latter instrument. He will offer several of these specialties which will undoubtedly add greatly to the entertainment of the dancers.

The Council has started plans for the Interfraternity Prom. Negotiations for the hotel and orchestra are now under way. The second week in March has been announced as a tentative date for this outstanding social event which promises to be better than ever this year.

Newman Club Hears Armament Discussed

Dr. Thomas Healy Addresses Meeting on International Relations

The Newman Club was, on January 6, addressed by Dr. Thomas H. Healy, assistant dean of the Georgetown School of Foreign Service, on the general subject of disarmament and international relations.

Dr. Healy stated that "the moral tone of the World is just about as low as it can get at any time, and that insincerity and deception are evidenced on the part of some nations in attempts to agree on international disarmament." He further stated that the present figures published by the League of Nations are about 50 per cent incorrect on the subject of the present armament and armies of some European countries.

One of the subjects treated by Dr. Healy was that of the division of territories effected through the medium of the Treaty of Versailles. He explained that there are several nations who feel that grave injustice was done to them in that post-war attempt to settle trouble—causing differences between nations.

Dr. Healy closed his discussion with the statement that many authorities see no prospect of any real progress toward disarmament at the coming February Conference in Geneva.

Subscriptions To Bi-Centennial Edition Of Cherry Tree Now Being Accepted

Students Warned to Subscribe Immediately for University
Annual in Order to Secure a Copy; Book
Promises to Be a Unique Record

Subscriptions for the George Washington Bi-Centennial Cherry Tree, the 1932 annual representing the current classes of the various schools in the University, are now being received by the Business Manager.

Last year a great many students of the University were disappointed in not being able to purchase copies of the book due to the fact that only enough books were ordered to cover the advance sales. This is a warning to students not to deprive themselves of the pleasure of owning one of these books, a true record of their collegiate career as well as a lasting memorial of the George Washington Bi-Centennial Anniversary.

Delta Phi Epsilon Has Rush Smoker

Dr. Donaldson Speaks on Incidents and Impressions of European Trip

Dr. John Donaldson, head of the Economics Department, pleasantly occupied the attention of members of Delta Phi Epsilon, foreign service fraternity, and guests, Monday, January 4, with a story of his trip through Europe last summer and the impressions gained there. He traveled in France, Switzerland, Germany, Norway, Sweden, and Denmark, renewing contacts in academic, business, and diplomatic circles in Paris and Berlin, visited the Free Port in Copenhagen, and attended sessions of the League Assembly, Council, and Committees. His frank discussion of present-day world problems and his informal presentation was most interesting.

France's prosperity was evident, he pointed out, and this leads to a certain degree of jealousy on the part of her neighbors which is aggravated by the reparations problem. While Germany's financial situation is in some respects crucial, this is not very apparent to the casual traveler, who sees many improvements in industrial equipment, and municipal and transport facilities; physically the country seems to be in rather good condition, surprising as this may seem.

Economic relations among the countries present many problems, but the

Miss Halberg Will Talk On Education

Women's Education Club Will Hold
Reception Thursday

At the Lambie House Thursday night at 8:15 Miss Anna D. Halberg will address the members and guests of the Women's Education Club of the University on "Significant Trends in Teacher Training." Miss Halberg came to Wilson Normal School as principal in 1927 from the Towson State Teachers' College, where she was director of Student Teacher Training. Since the normal school has been changed to Wilson Teachers' College, Miss Halberg has been dean of education.

Professor and Mrs. J. Orin Powers were omitted through error from the published list of those asked to be sponsors of this newly organized club. Because of their interest and cooperation in forming this organization they were included and have already sent their acceptances.

After Miss Halberg's talk the members of the club will welcome the honorary members and sponsors at an informal reception. Special invitations have been issued to the honorary members and sponsors for the informal reception, to attend the January 14 meeting.

Many Attend Council Dance In Corcoran Hall Saturday

Despite the first real snowstorm of Washington's Florida winter, the Student Council dance held on Saturday, January 9, in Corcoran Hall was well attended.

This dance was the first All-University affair with an admission charge attempted by the Council. The organization's fall mixer given in the interests of new students has been its usual function. The success of Saturday night's affair, however, brings word from the Council that they expect to continue in the All-University field and give another dance of this type in the near future. Dagmoir's Band furnished the music for the peppy crowd.

Five Men Pledged At Last Meeting Of Gate and Key

Fesler, Hale, Hanback, Hudson, Vaughn
Honored by Interfraternity Organization

Gate and Key, interfraternity activities fraternity, announced the pledging of five men at a regular meeting held in the Kappa Alpha house last Wednesday, January 6. The men pledged were C. Manley Fesler of Sigma Chi, Frank Hale of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, William Hanback of Phi Sigma Kappa, Minor Hudson of Kappa Alpha, and Thomas Vaughn of Kappa Sigma.

Fesler is president of the Interfraternity Council and an associate editor of The Hatchet. Frank Hale, besides being Interfraternity Council delegate, is past president of his fraternity. Bill Hanback lists among his many activities senior manager of Athletics and membership in Omicron Delta Kappa and Pi Delta Epsilon. Minor Hudson is a chapter officer, and past member of the freshman football team, while Vaughn is president of Kappa Sigma.

A program of extended activity has been planned for the new year, and will be put into operation with a dance to be held February 13. Oliver Pagan, chairman of the Social Committee, will announce the place later.

First Engineer Ball Pronounced Success

Dance to Become Annual Event; Pick and Shovel Makes Debut

Over three hundred and fifty couples danced to Red Anderson's music at the Engineer's Ball, held at the Shoreham last Friday night. This was the first celebration of what will hereafter be an annual affair.

The success of the dance was largely due to the efforts of a committee consisting of Ray A. Heimburger, L. Ron Hubbard, Val Darling, Larry Ball, H. G. Free, Ray Ask, Harry Porch, Warren Weiss, Firman Lyle, Perkins Beauvey, W. T. McNallan, Gordon Noble, Floyd Traver, F. E. Mittenberger, Purchase, and Herman Miller, which gained the united cooperation of the American Society of Civil Engineers, Phi Theta Xi, Sigma Tau, and the American Society of Electrical Engineers for the event.

The outstanding feature of the evening was the Grand March, led by Margaret Cook and Ray Heimburger, which was done on a novel military plan under the direction of Jack Royce.

This was followed by the distribution of copies of the "Pick and Shovel," which contained many a revealing fact written in humorous fashion.

Entertainment was furnished by Marjorie Mitchell, "Sok" Kennedy, and Bert Bagnanoff, of the George Washington Troubadours.

Many members of the faculty, including President Marvin and Dean Lapham, attended the dance and expressed their pleasure at the way in which the Engineers were making their presence felt in school activities.

Honorary Fraternity Holds Initiation for Eleven Men

Eleven men were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary scholastic fraternity, at a ceremony held at the home of Colman B. Stein, president, Saturday, January 9.

The men so honored are Walter Dreyer, Robert Harvey, Joseph Danzansky, James Haley, Burke Drury, John Parsons, Samuel Snyder, Paul Boesch, William Hopkins, Lester Clark, and Arthur Storey. All of these men made an average of one-half "A" and one-half "B" or better in their grades during their freshman year.

There will be a meeting at the Phi Alpha house, 1707 Nineteenth street, January 18, to elect officers for the coming year.

Drama Club Group Makes Changes In Membership Rules

Lack of Attendance at Meetings Causes Alteration in Constitution

An entire reorganization of the George Washington University Drama Club was effected at a recent meeting of the active members. A new constitution was adopted, a new slate of officers elected, and a distinguishing class of membership for freshmen created.

Twenty-four active and 18 associate members now constitute the roster of the Drama Club. Associate membership is awarded freshmen, and carries no voting power in the organization.

Because of a sudden lack of attendance at meetings it was determined by the executive committee to reorganize the group, eliminating all old members who had failed to show interest. The new membership rules are stringent and only students interested and active in the dramatic field may acquire membership.

Freshmen and students who are not members are urged to participate in the opportunities offered by the club in the casts and production staffs of the various plays which the Drama Club sponsors.

The three elected officers of the club are Phyllis Mills, president and production manager; Winifred Whitney, vice president; and Louise Wright, secretary. The business and production staff heads are appointed by the executive committee which consists of the elected officers and the director.

Organizations Rush To File Information

Student Life Committee O.
K.'s All but Few Report
Due Thursday

A last minute rush yesterday to file with the Committee on Student Life the information required of all organizations on campus by the Board of Trustees' regulations has permitted all but a few of the delinquent groups to escape the extra burdens that lack of recognition would place on them in the future.

Dean Henry Gratton Doyle, chairman of the committee, states that almost all organizations which are affiliated with the University are now "under the wire" with their information regarding pertinent matters that had been zealously guarded. The completed list of approved groups will be made public following a meeting of the Committee on Student Life Thursday of this week.

The total number of organizations claiming affiliation with the University is in the neighborhood of 75. Two months ago, in The Hatchet of November 10, 28 of these were announced as approved by the Student Life Committee. About 10 days ago this number had not appreciably increased, but the ultimatum issued by the committee and bolstered by statements by President Marvin and Provost Wilbur led to immediate action on the part of the procrastinating organizations and information has literally "poured in" to Dean Doyle's office.

Y. W. C. A. Will Present School With Tea Service

A silver tea service will be presented to the school by the Young Women's Christian Association which disbanded its organization here on January 11.

The service, which was bought from the funds remaining in the treasury, is to be placed at the disposal of any group of organized or unorganized girls on the campus. A cabinet is being bought in which to keep the service. This cabinet will be placed on the second floor of the Lambie House. Betty Jacobs, the retiring president, will make the presentation.

Delphi, Women's Honorary, Holds Initiation for Eight

Delphi, Women's Honorary Society, held formal initiation services Sunday, January 10, in the Kappa Kappa Gamma rooms, for Louise Berryman, Marian Boyle, Edith Brookhart, Mary Fleming, Betsy Garrett, Sue Gibson, Mary Margaret Henry, and Betty Moorehead.

Following the ceremony a formal banquet was held at the Kennedy-Warren in honor of the initiates, with Dorothy Douglas, president of the society, presiding.

'Spot' News—And Deserved Praise.

This week The Hatchet takes another step forward, and assumes more the status of a newspaper by carrying an account of the varsity basketball contest staged at Quantico last night against the Marine quint.

This item is NEWS in the real sense, and it is the aim of the editors to expand this policy as much and as rapidly as possible. Arrangements made for the printing of The Hatchet this year enable the staff to cover last minute events and it is encouraging all students, faculty members, and administrative officers in the University, as well as the entire staff, to cooperate in obtaining last minute news.

The subject of this account—the varsity basketball team—is certainly deserving of notice. It is undoubtedly one of the finest ever turned out at George Washington. Those who witnessed the first two games played in the gym know that they can expect much from this latest varsity five. It will be a mighty strong aggregation which takes the measure of these Colonials, and when the end of the season rolls around there should be little to mar a perfect record.

Interfraternity Council In Another Muddle

Interfraternity basketball has not enjoyed a successful season and everyone will feel relieved when the final game is a matter of record.

Since the first practice sessions there has been one difficulty after another. Apparently no schedule was ever definitely drawn. Some games were not arranged until the date played, and this detracted seriously from the calibre of play, participants in some cases not hearing of the game until the next day. Attendance at many games has also been very poor on this account.

The question of eligibility has caused much trouble, and a climax was reached when two players were barred by vote of the Interfraternity Council the night before the contest in which they were to take part. The men may not have been eligible, but the protesting group exhibited little sportsmanship in delaying until the eve of the game to voice its objections, and the Council made a serious mistake in sanctioning the protest and voting to bar the men from their last game of the series after they had been playing against all other opponents in the league. There was a threat to use the men so barred by the Council, and only the action of Coach Pixlee saves its face, by barring all varsity men from interfraternity games.

The trouble lies in the handling of the series, allowing the games to extend into the middle of the varsity season. Indirectly this is the result of the big weakness of the Interfraternity Council—political factions. The function of the Council is to regulate the activities of certain social fraternities, but it still shows much need of regulation itself, in spite of many resolves of the new officers.

Until some change is made in the method of governing the group we can expect that this same condition will exist. The members of the Council acknowledge their weakness, and apparently there is some effort being made today to strengthen themselves by dissolving the old political faction and substituting an unselfish and fair system of regulation. When all the members realize the necessity for breaking party line-ups there will be hope for a successful government of the Council and more satisfactory relations between the various members.

A WORD TO STRICT PROFESSORS

Instructors who make a point of failing a large part of their classes every year because the students do not come up to the difficult standards set by the instructors in their pet subjects will be interested in the statement made by Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern University.

Dr. Scott grouped his instructors in two divisions, the "best"

CHIPS

Beware of the Shadow! She skulks through the night like a furtive menace. The editor cringes, while his associates dwell in constant terror. Into the very soul of The Hatchet she probes, unearthing the minutest error. Two copies of a 1906 Hatchet, and a Dutch treat with Les Gates will be given for the delivery of Betty Noname to The Hatchet Staff, dead or alive. May her body equal her brain!

Sure we went to the Engineer's ball, and bought for two bits our Pick and Shovel, which appeared to be a cross between Chic Sale's Specialist, a telephone directory, and a high school weekly.

The Co-eds beat the Greeks in the Girl's Bowling Tournament. My! and it has always been taken for granted that Helen Wills' winning spirit took care of catastrophes such as these that occurred anywhere.

Dragging out that old depression skeleton again, it should be noted that skirts reached a new high last Monday in the A. D. Pi rooms, when Horace, the rat, insisted on invading the sanctity of the chapter meeting. Several noted campus gentlemen (?) have announced serious intentions of taking up ratty abodes.

"How to Resemble a Cherub" has been suggested by Uncle Hank Roberts as a subject for a spontaneous address. Let it go down into oblivion in the company of such previously suggested topics as "Why, If What Not?" and "Undergraduate Love" (on which subject, dear readers, Dick Rollo is an authority. How about a date sometime?)

Since the suppression of several well known mags, the Quigley Magazine Club, which meets Monday to Saturday inclusive, has decreased in membership to such an alarming extent that Doc Quigley is seriously considering subscribing for the Police Gazette and installing an old-fashioned stove, spittoon, and cracker barrel.

Rollo advocates classification of sorority women similar to that carried in "The Trenchmouthian," model college annual. Think of all the time and trouble it would save fraternity men when hunting dates—more especially think of the nickels which could be devoted to other and better purposes—since we're enjoying a depression. Wendell Bain might well gain a few choice ideas from the above mentioned annual to aid in selling this "superlative" Cherry Tree thing.

It is rumored that the department of the Gate and Key treasury has led to opening the sacred portals to new pledges at an earlier date than usual. He that hath twelve talents is welcome, and shall be well hammered.

To the Fox in Tux with High School Ladies is the latest fad of Delta who seek higher levels of sophistication than those offered locally. The radio party with dimmed lights which followed was quite the thing, though most uncomfortable at moments. Perhaps it was them stiff shirts.

Rollo put on his galoshes, overcoat, and took in hand his trusty umbrella, and, dateless, as usual, made his way through a blinding snowstorm to crash Corcoran Hall, where Dagmoir strains announced that the Student Council was sponsoring another one of them things.

Won't somebody please donate a couple of loaves of bread and break a few of Max Farrington's dates so that the football team can hold that many times postponed banquet?

A favorite sorority battleground passed when the Y. W. left the campus on the eleventh. Fear not! They have left behind a tea service over which the dear sisters can continue the usual exchange of amenities. "Don't glare at me, you nasty thing!"

Basing his calculations on the widely advertised rumor that part time students will be allowed to take only six hours in the future, Rollo has figured out that he will be able to graduate about the time his youngest son is being broken in as an apprentice to this column of alleged wit.

The Green Dragon standard must be dragging the ground these days, or else that police stry must be broken. No one knows when or where they will appear, or even who. It might be Provest Wilbur, Dean Doyle or even Joe Howard, who is slated to lead their next soiree. No, siree, you never can tell.

It's quite a debatable subject as to how much Steele McGrew received for that Phi Sig basket he handed out the other night.

Who's the certain commercial law prof who always prepares exams with being "those recommended by their departments for the greatest salary increase and 'poorest' those who were not re-appointed." "The poorest instructors gave seven times as many low grades as the 'best,'" said Dr. Scott. He followed by saying, "The function of a professor is to develop intellectual interests rather than to provide difficult hurdles."

Some instructors seem to delight in failing students who do not show aptitude and interest in their subject, usually one of several for which the student is registered, and often a course required under the curriculum being followed. These might well take a lesson from the findings of Dr. Scott and adopt a broad point of view.

WORLD NEWS

BY JAMES COBERLY

Following close upon the report of the Basle conference of Germany's ability to pay her obligations and the calling of a conference to consider reparations at Lausanne has come the declaration by Chancellor Bruening that it will be impossible for Germany to make payments under the Young plan. The Lausanne conference was called as a preliminary to the International Arms Conference to be held at Geneva in February. The United States will have no representative at the meeting at Lausanne as it is not concerned with reparations as are France and England. The action taken by Congress in stating there could be no debt-cancellation agreements did nothing to aid the movement, however.

Chancellor Bruening's announcement is of great significance. He has lately attempted an alliance with Adolph Hitler, leader of the Nazi movement, in an effort to have the term of President von Hindenburg increased through a decree of the Reich. Hitler is bitterly opposed to payment of reparation "tribute" as he terms it. Under the Hague agreement France and the creditor nations are given powers to enforce the payment in case an act tending to destroy the Young Plan is committed by Germany. In addition France is in a position to embarrass the German government by failing to carry out existing and proposed financial arrangements. Prime Minister MacDonald is thought to be in sympathy with the German stand and has stated that the declaration by Herr Bruening makes the proposed conference at Lausanne all the more necessary. Previously M. Plandin of France had stated that the German move had destroyed the necessity.

The Near East

While the Senate was debating the Reconstruction Finance Bill and the Democrats were passing their tariff bill in the House, affairs in the East took a sudden turn involving the diplomatic corps of this country. Japanese forces occupied Chinchow, last stronghold of China in Manchuria, late last Saturday, obstructed only by occasional skirmishes. Later in the week they pushed forward to the Great Wall and laid plans for final bandit extermination, as they term it, which might include the province of Jehol.

While these military maneuvers were being carried out, an American consul, Mr. Chamberlain, driving to Harbin in an automobile flying the American flag, was stopped and severely beaten by three Japanese soldiers. Consul General George C. Hanson at Mukden, Manchuria, demanded an apology for the act. This suffered such delay before it reached the State authorities in Washington, that Secretary Stimson, although confined to his home, sent a demand to the Japanese government for an immediate apology and punishment of the offenders. This was delivered to Ambassador Debutchi who transmitted it to Tokyo. Later action and subsequent apologies relieved the tension of the situation.

At the same time the United States invoked the Nine Power treaty and demanded her rights under it. In notes to the Nanking and Tokyo governments warning was given that treaty rights of this country were not to be violated nor was any action tending to destroy the Open Door policy of China to be tolerated.

It is likely that Great Britain will proceed along the same lines, although independently. Sir John Simon stated that any British communication would deal less severely with conditions. France and the other signers of the pact are expected to follow suit. France has always gone hand in hand with the United States in its attitude toward China.

Formal replies have not been received, but Japan has denied any intention to violate treaty rights. The news was received with great satisfaction in Nanking although wonder was expressed that similar action had not been taken sooner. The situation was somewhat complicated by an attempt to assassinate Emperor Hirohito of Japan during a parade Friday. Failure lots of errors and then never is present when the exams are given? Ask about one hundred disgusted commercial lawyers.

Did it ever occur to you that Johnny Perkins, the three-hundred-pound funster on the Keith stage, bears a remarkable facial resemblance to James Ebenezzer Pixlee? And the damsel who's assisting him on his current program has the facial peculiarities of a certain Piffie? You guess who! The initials are C. B.

Rollo's masculine bosom heaves with repressed wrath as word reaches him that it is a certain member of the fair sex who scribbles these drivelings. Let he that doubteth doubt no more, for we are masculine, with strictly dishonorable intentions. Now if you were thinking of our secretary—!

to stop the attempt was responsible for the resignation of the Inukai Cabinet. It is probable that a new ministry will be formed with the ex-Premier at the head, any replacements being made with civilians.

Gandhi Again

For the fourth time during his career Mahatma Gandhi has been put in jail. He and Vathalbhai Patel, president of the All-India National Congress, were given the benefit of British board and lodging following their protest of the British effort to block further civil disobedience and anti-British manifestations. Except for a jail release effected by a mob of 12,000, Indians have shown remarkable quiet. Government officials have interpreted it as "the calm before a storm," however, and have issued a number of drastic decrees.

On Capitol Hill

Congress concerned itself during the past week with consideration of relief measures and a tariff bill. Senate action on the Reconstruction Finance Corporation proposed by President Hoover and endorsed by financial leaders throughout the country was blocked by the efforts of Senator Blaine who said he saw "no food" in the bill and that it was "aimed to help the banks which are responsible for the depression and to bolster up the stock market."

Aided by Representative La Guardia and thirteen Progressives, the Democratic tariff bill passed the House, 214 to 182. No attempt was made to fix rates and schedules. Power of the President in tariff matters was reduced and a provision inserted which would assemble the nations of the world in an international discussion of the tariff situation. This last was a source of disappointment to World Court backers as they have already provided for such procedure. The bill is conceded a slight chance of passing the Senate but the possibility of President Hoover's signature is very remote.

Passage of the bill clears the way for consideration of the bill proposed by Representative Beedy to create a depositor's relief corporation which would aid the depositors of insolvent banks by giving them quicker returns. The bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator Thomas of Idaho and should receive attention early this week.

A Message from GARCIA

Don't let my name mislead you—I'm Mr. Jenner's baker. And I have more and more to bake every day. I don't like to boast, but patrons seem to be going after my pies, cherry especially. Of course pineapple and custard are big sellers, too, but I've never baked so many cherry pies in all my life.

"I tell Mr. Jenner that the popularity of my pies is partly his fault, for naturally, if a baker has the best flour and shortening and fruits and so on, and the right oven, he'd have to be pretty mean not to do his best."

Amusing Answers Received by Smith In "Survey" Tests

"Brown Derbies" are derived from English Survey exams," reveals Professor Audley Lawrence Smith of the English department. The name "Brown Derbies," which originated when Professor Bolwell instituted the Survey course here at the University, is the name applied to wrong but rather clever answers to examination questions, or twisted meanings inferred from misspelled words.

In the recent Survey examination given by Professor Smith, several amusing examples were found. One question requested the identification of a Protestant martyr, Latimer, who was burned at the stake. One answer said that Latimer was burned "on a steak"; another stated that he was burned "to a steak!" The best definition for a mixed morality play was the statement that the wife always runs off with a priest.

Marian Butler Wins Tennis Finals From Reba Barton

Maintaining a steady though not spectacular pace, Marian Butler took the finals in the Women's Single All-Campus Tennis Tournament for the fall season. The match, which had been postponed due to bad weather, was played Saturday, December 19, at Columbia Country Club.

The runner-up, Reba Barton, put up a good fight but lost by a score of 8-6, 8-3. The winner, a senior, also won the tournament last year. Miss Barton, a freshman, showed new talent with her consistent victories up to this last contest.

To MEN only!

NO NEED to park a "Girls Keep Out" at the top of this advertisement. They'll fly off quick enough when they find out what it's about.

For it's a strictly masculine privilege—solace, satisfaction, retreat, call it what you will—the joy of smoking a pipe!

It's the smoke "for men only," any girl will agree—one of the few rights the women haven't crowded us on. And the only smoke for men, many a thoughtful smoker calls it. For the deep consolation and rare comradeship of a mellow, richly aged pipe are something every man does well to know.

And you taste the rich satisfaction of pipe smoking at its best when you fill up your bowl with Edgeworth. There's a tobacco that's made for a pipe. Cool, dry, slow-burning. Blended of fine, mellow, full-flavored burleys.

You've a rare smoke coming if you've never tried Edgeworth. You will find Edgeworth at your tobacco dealer's. Or send for special free sample packet if you wish. Address Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Virginia.

Fast Fives Listed To Oppose Colonial Quintet This Week

Villanova and St. Joseph's College Are Met in Gym This Week End

The Colonial varsity basketball team runs into strong opposition in their next two court battles when they face St. Joseph's College and Villanova College, of Philadelphia, on Friday and Saturday nights, respectively. Both contests are slated to take place in the George Washington gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

Backed by Billy Ferguson, the St. Joseph's team has compiled a fine record thus far, the highlight of their campaign being a 28-17 victory over Penn. As this is written, the Hawks have dropped but one decision, and that to C. C. N. Y., quint which has been cutting a wide swath in eastern collegiate court circles. Jim Osborne and Phil Zuber, forwards, Jim Dougherty, center, and Johnnie Kane and Al Mandes, guards, have all played an important part in the team's success, and no doubt will see action Friday night.

Villanova is reported to have another strong five, and if it measures up in ability to the caliber of last year's quint, the game should prove to be an exciting battle. The two met last year at Villanova, in a thrilling engagement which Pixlee's men barely won by a point or two. The Wildcats' lineup will probably be chosen from the following: Czesick, Tracey, Edwards, forwards; Prucha, center, and Brockmeyer, Weston, Stock, guards. The Pennsylvania courtmen will play Catholic University on Friday night prior to engaging the Buff and Blue. The probable G. W. starting line-up for both games: Burgess, Parrack, forwards; Hertzler, center; Zahn, Chambers, guards.

Referee Kall will officiate at the St. Joseph's game, while the Mitchell brothers, Joey and Orrel, will handle the Villanova encounter.

Greek Basketers Reach Last Stage

Sigma Nu Downs S. P. E. in League B Game; P. S. K. Clinches League A

Thrills galore were packed into the deciding basketball games in the interfraternity basketball series, which saw Sigma Nu nose out a fighting S. P. E. quint, 19-17, in the last minutes of play for first honors, in League B, and an inexperienced T. U. O. team succumbed to the sharpshooting Phi Sigs, 36 to 20, last Thursday night. Previously on Tuesday evening Acacia entered the win column by licking the Theta Deltas, 30 to 18, Kappa Alpha eked out a win over S. A. E., which was even closer than a score of 17-10 indicates.

Although the S. P. E.'s were short of their scoring aces, "Wick" Parrack and "Ty" Hertzler, due to a ruling by Coach Pixlee regarding varsity players, they displayed some good basketball and might have won the verdict had they not tired quickly. The Sigma Nus showed a better balanced game, which, coupled with their speed and close guarding equalized their disadvantage in height. Billy Woodward was again the spearhead of attack which revolved around the systematic team play of the winners. This victory clinched the championship in League B for Sigma Nu.

Steele McGrew, T. U. O. center, helped the Phi Sigs win in a game full of the customary Phi Sig-T. U. O. rivalry, by tossing the ball in the wrong basket giving Phi Sig two points which they did not deserve. Little Henry Weigel, Phi Sig forward, played a brilliant floor game and proved to be the spark plug of his outfit. By this win Phi Sig gained the undisputed lead in its league.

Stage Circus
Kappa Alpha and S. A. E. staged a miniature circus in their game on Tuesday. Each team used four men apiece for the first half, when S. A. E. acquired another man and then proceeded to lose out after they were leading the K. A. quartet. Blackmar and Johnny Sheiry led their respective teams in scoring.

Acacia out-potted a Theta Delta quint in the race for the cellar position in League A. Acacia displayed the best basketball they have shown in the series up to date. Kennell, Acacia center, led both teams in scoring.

In the remaining games in League A, Sigma Chi plays the Deltas, while Phi Sig finishes against Theta Delta Chi, and T. U. O. fights it out with Acacia. The schedule in League B has been completed.

Sport Axe

BY THE SPORTSMAN

For the past month, since the close of the collegiate football season, the newspapers throughout the land have been featuring on sport pages articles and comment by greater gridiron authorities concerning the general trend of our autumnal sport. I do not pretend to be one of these illustrious commentators but within the next two or three weeks I shall present to the readers of The Hatchet a very interesting comparison in a series of articles, the author of which I will disclose at the termination of the little serial.

I do not agree entirely with the ideas as projected in this series and each week I shall comment briefly on my disagreeing contentions. Campus comment is cordially invited.

A COMPARISON Chapter 1

Coaches at Oxford are either graduates who receive no compensation whatsoever or professionals who are treated as such—and the English professional rates as an artisan. For the British idea is that "if an individual plays a game, there is no reason why he should be obliged to play it in such a way that will please the professional coach, or as the only alternative, to find himself abolished from the game." They play for the fun of it, and neither as a matter of social policy nor for the love of the "old alma mater."

Rugby is a very hard fast game which lacks the fortuitous thrills of our own football, but provides the sustained thrill of ice-hockey. They allow no substitutions, therefore the idea is merely to put your man out of the play, but not to kill him off. For if you kill him off, where is the credit for beating a team which must play a man short? Or two or three men short? This means that Oxford plays its best team against Cambridge's best team; our own idea is that, say, Harvard plays the sum total of all of her football material against the sum total of Yale's football material. But we are forced to this present theory of ours because, when our own rules did not allow substitutions except with the consent of the opposing captain, the opposing captain usually never gave his consent, wherefore injured men were kept in play, and so many players were seriously disabled that we were compelled to adopt the principle of substitution. In other words, our modern American football derives from a lack of

Girls' Rifle Team Will Meet Cornell

Match Is First of Intercollegiate Series; Meet South Dakota Next

The George Washington women's rifle team starts its season of intercollegiate shooting this week. Practicing has been going on since October, but the first match of the year is to be held with Cornell this Saturday; and the following Saturday, a match will be shot with South Dakota. During the month of February, the three stages of the Intercollegiate National Championship match will be shot. Interest runs high in this match because G. W. won first place for four consecutive years and came second last year, first place being taken by Maryland University.

The schedule for March is as follows: Mar. 5, Drexel Institute; 12, University of Washington; 19, University of Maryland; and 26, University of Vermont. In April, matches will be shot with Carnegie Tech, Louisiana State, and the University of Southern California.

The varsity team this year will be composed of ten of the following girls: Virginia Sheffield, captain of the team; Emera Johnson, Evelyn Kerr, Caroline Seibert, Myrtle Williams, Ruth White, Virginia Dillman, Lois Cores, Leah MacArthur, Ruth Schmidt, Naomi Myers, and Janice Holland. Five of these girls, V. Sheffield, E. Johnson, E. Kerr, C. Seibert, and L. Cores were members of the team last year.

The team for Saturday's match will be composed of 10 of the 12 girls mentioned above who have the best practice scores this week. The range will be open for practice as usual from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and again from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. on Thursday.

Beer Is Innocent, Healthful
Yandell Henderson, professor of physiology at Yale, said, in pleading for the restoration of 4% beer before the Senate Manufacturers Committee, "Beer is a normal, healthy outlet for natural energy. There's nothing more innocent, nothing more healthful for students than to sit about of an evening to sing songs and drink beer."

Varsity Triumphs Over Marine Five

Parrack Leads Mates to 39-27

Victory in Battle of Giants Wednesday

Showing speed and lots of size, the Colonials defeated the Quantico Marines, 39-27, Wednesday night for their second win in as many starts. The game, featuring the biggest players seen in Washington this year, was a thriller. From the opening whistle both teams played at top speed, delighting the fans who packed the gym to capacity.

The game was exceptional in several ways. There were no substitutions for either team during the entire game. This alone denotes the type of game played. Another fact which designates the quality of the contest is that each team required only one time-out during the tilt.

Led by Wick Parrack, giant forward, who chalked up 18 points by always being in the right place at the right time, and Forrest Burgess, the midget of the team, who scored 11 points, the Colonials were never headed. Hertzler, at the center position, although not scoring as readily as in the first encounter, played a good game. Zahn and Chambers at the guard positions played their usual steady game advancing under the basket occasionally to drop one through the ring.

Burgess Comes Through
Their passing attack was of the first rank throughout, and this represented the margin of victory. Burgess, usually the leader in scoring, was off form until the last quarter when he scored seven points on three spectacular field goals and a foul. However, during his scoring lapse Forrest showed himself to be a first class team player. His passing and floor game aiding Parrack to score thirteen of his team's points in the first half and give them a well earned 18-16 lead.

Marines Score on Long Shots
The Marines offered a team which seldom worked the ball up to the basket but contented themselves with long shots from all angles. In the first two periods they had marked success in this type of play, but after the half the college boys set a pace too fast for the soldiers and gradually drew away as the end of the game approached.

Lieutenant Bauer, former Naval Academy star, played the best game for the Marine men. His long shots were deadly and his floor work and guarding were of high order. Though Parrack and Burgess led the Colonials in scoring they were ably aided by all of their mates. In fact, Coach Pixlee placed a team on the floor that was extremely well balanced and should give all George Washington opponents a real fight.

Yearling Basketers Even in Two Frays

Freshmen Beat Business High and Lose Close Contest to Eastern

Colonial frosh basketers obtained a percentage of 500 in last week's tussle by winning one game from Business High School, 29-18, and losing a tough one to Eastern High School by a count of 26 to 19.

Business High made the freshmen step in the first half of the game on Wednesday. With Esenstad and Shore leading the way, Business rang up 9 points. Concentrated effort on the part of George Washington courtmen enabled them to top the Stenographers at half-time by 2 points.

It was in the latter period that the Colonial frosh showed their superiority, finally defeating Business High by finer basket shooting.

Noonan Excellent
Esenstad and Shore were the high school's mainstays but Tipton and Cavanaugh were not far behind in playing ability. As in past games, Noonan of George Washington played excellently at the pivot position, both on defensive and offensive. He was high point scorer of the contest with 8 baskets and 2 foul shots. Weingarten and Shirley were not far behind their teammates in scoring ability, each tossing 8 baskets.

Throughout the first half of the fray with Eastern High it appeared that the Colonial frosh were going to emerge victorious, for at the half the George Washington freshmen were leading by 14 to 6. Noonan and Weingarten were potent factors in the fine showing made by George Washington during this first period.

However, it was in the second half that Eastern High unleashed its furious attack, garnering 20 points and holding the freshmen to a mere 5. Gleason of George Washington was the main cog in the frosh's gallant attempt to stem the rush of the high school boys.

Baylis of Eastern High was high-point scorer, tossing baskets to the tune of 11 points. Lieb and Courtney were also superlative sharpshooters.

Prexy Fooled Em
Students at the University of Wyoming, who struck because their president interfered with their necking in parked cars during intermission at a dance, returned to classes without receiving an apology from him, as they had demanded.

Buff and Blue Courtmen Score 24 Field Goals in Contest Last Night

Show Decided Superiority Over Devil Dog Quintet in Fast Battle at Quantico; Burgess and Parrack Again Star

The Colonial quint completely outclassed the Marine five, 59-31, in a return game played with the Devil Dogs at Quantico last night. The G. W. outfit scored 24 field goals to 12 for its opponents and was never once headed, every man finding the basket for at least one counter.

Burgess was the outstanding scorer, making a total of 19 points and Parrack ran him a close second, scoring 16 before he was replaced by Mulvey. Zahn played a bang-up game at left guard but failed to tally until the second half when he scored five field goals and a free toss. Locke was outstanding for the Marines, scoring 15 points, all of them, however, in the first half. Chambers did not seem to be himself and was replaced by Fenlon after three personal fouls had been called against him. At half time the score stood 30-19 in favor of G. W. In the second half the Marines scored only 12 points. This game shows decisively the superiority of Pixlee's charges over the Marines.

Freshmen Will Play Host To Two Fives

Meet Little Generals Tonight; Oppose Tech Squad Friday Night

The fast freshman basketers will meet the Washington and Lee High School outfit tonight at 7 p. m., in the Gym, and on Friday night will take on the snappy Tech five here. Coach Walsh expects great success for his men on the floor against the Little Generals. The Tech squad, though, has more to offer in that Russell, one of the best high school athletes in the District, is the mainstay of their team and will offer the frosh an up and up battle.

So far this season the team from across the river has not shown much that would designate it a bang-up squad. Coach Len Walsh will probably use reserves in this contest to find how they shape up under fire.

The Technical boys as usual have a winning aggregation and should give the Cubs somewhat of a fight. Russell, an all-high man, is one of the best shots in the game and works in equally well on the defensive part of the game.

Of the freshmen, lanky "Bill" Noonan, former Easternite, has shown himself to be the leading scorer of the squad so far this season. Bill has averaged nearly ten points per game in the six contests played to date.

This year's team is an all-District combination with Noonan and Shirley, center and guard, hailing from Eastern. Albert, guard, comes from Emerson Prep, and Gleason and Weingarten from Devitt and Beltsville High, respectively. Others on the reserve list are also from schools in the District. This would seem to indicate no necessity for any importation of players for the basketball team.

Novel Dollar Dance On Tap for Saturday.

Jack Vivian serves notice of what will be probably the best Interfraternity Dollar Dance of the year. It seems that the Council has secured the services of a Wardman Park Hotel musical unit headed by no less a personage than the versatile Charlie Wright, far-famed for his cavorting with the accordion. We have heard this band and our advice is to be on hand Saturday night at Corcoran Hall, immediately after the varsity game with Villanova—which, incidentally, should bring out a record crowd.

First Swim Meet Lost by Yearlings

Friends School Swimmers Outclass Freshmen From Beginning.

The Freshman Swimming team traveled to Baltimore last Friday night, where it was swamped by the natators representing Friends School, 47 to 19. This was the first meet of the year for the yearlings.

The Quakers exhibited a well coached and conditioned squad and outclassed the Colonials from the start. A determined frosh squad redeemed itself by taking the final event of the evening, the medley relay, by a close margin, after failing in the dashes.

Kinsler, of the frosh, and Christhill, backstroke artist of the winners, were outstanding in the meet. Kinsler handily won the breast-stroke, took third in the back-stroke, and won on the winning medley relay team. Christhill won the back-stroke, and also swam anchor on the 160-yard relay team.

Results were:
Relay: Friends (Cromwell, Hill, Wilson, Christhill). Time: 1:13 2-5.
100-Yard Breast: Kinsler (G. W.), Moses (Friends), Shannahan (Friends). Time: 1:24.

50-Yard Free-Style: Wilson (Friends), Hill (Friends), MacMillan (G. W.). Time: 0:28 4-5.

100-Yard Free-Style: Frey (Friends), Moore (Friends), Helverson (G. W.). Time: 1:05.

100-Yard Back-Stroke: Christhill (Friends), Chittum (Friends), Kinsler (G. W.). Time: 1:15 2-5.

220-Yard Free-Style: Sheer (Friends), Ellis (Friends), MacMillan (G. W.). Time: 2:56.

Medley Relay: Lane, Kinsler, Helverson (G. W.). Time: 4:0.

Representatives of University in Inter-Collegiate Rifle Match

George Washington is represented by six entrants in the Inter-Collegiate Individual Championship match which is being shot all over the country this month. The G. W. contestants are Virginia Sheffield, captain of the varsity team; Evelyn Kerr, Naomi Myers, Caroline Seibert, and Ruth White. This match is to be shot in three stages, 20 shots to each stage.

The match was won last year by a woman at the University of Vermont. In 1929 and 1930 Helen Taylor, of G. W., and now in her second year of coaching the G. W. team tied for first place, having both times a score of 594 out of a possible 600.

Tryouts for class rifle teams will be held among squad members during the last two weeks in January. There are to be four members on each class team, and the intra-mural matches will be shot in February.

All women who have been out for rifle this year are urged to try out and to get as much practice as possible this month.

The range will be open as usual from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday and again from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. on Thursday.

Students to Hear Buchanan Lecture On Orient Subject

Professor Will Talk on "Economic Aspects of Orient" in One of Series of Questions

Dr. Daniel Houston Buchanan, associate professor of Economics will address an open meeting for students of the University on "Economic Aspects of the Orient" Wednesday at 8 p. m., in Corcoran Hall 17. This program is another in the series on leading economic questions of the day, being presented for students by the Commerce and Economics Fraternity of the University.

Dr. Buchanan has the unique distinction of being the only non-Japanese to receive the degree of doctor of economic science from the Keio University of Japan. He has spent ten years in the Orient, and during that time traveled in China, Manchuria, Siberia, and was over a year in India. He was also on the staff of the Keio University, which is one of the oldest in the country.

Seven new pledges of the fraternity entertained the members at an initiation night program of "plays and paddles" at the Hay Adams House, Monday evening, January 4. The clash of paddles was loud when the candidates were hesitant in making reply to the questioning of Initiation Chairman B. Hix. Questions ranged from requests for definitions of rent, to a 10-word solution to the depression. Jesse Nixon, Charles Green, John Robertson, E. C. Wilkie, Frederic Waller, Gordon Stewart, and Harold Olin were the neophytes inducted into membership.

The fraternity accepted the design for keys for members designed by Lawrence Parker, and the contract was awarded. Selections were given by the Commerce Quartette, Douglas Taylor, Ralph R. Gilby, Fred Joiner, and Carol W. Hughes, and group harmony was directed by Alph Larson.

Strasburger Talks To Jewish Society

Judge Speaks of "The Jewish Student in Europe and America"

"European universities were primarily intended for the nobility," declared Judge Milton Strasburger, formerly of the Municipal Court, in his talk on "The Jewish Student in Europe and America," before the Menorah Society, January 7. "When they did begin to admit the common people the Jews, who have minority rights in most European countries, were definitely limited."

Judge Strasburger, who received his

Beaux Arts Paris Prize Award Preliminaries Held

The First Preliminary Prize Competition of the Beaux Arts Paris Prize award was held in the Art School last Saturday. Winners have not been announced as yet. Victors in the final competition are awarded a two and one-half year's stay in Paris for advanced study and research.

L.L.M. from George Washington when it was still Columbian University, went on to explain that the uprisings against Jewish students in Europe could probably be traced at least partly to jealousy.

"European students are more ready for any sort of uprising, anyway," he added, "because of the unsettled state of affairs politically. They are always expecting a revolution, while Americans are more interested in sports and would be astounded if there should be a revolution in this country."

Election of officers will take place at the next meeting of the society to be held February 11, and Sylvia Werksman, temporary president, urged members to pay at least part of their dues so they would be eligible to vote at that time.

Besides the election, a play "Two Goyim" will be presented by one of the dramatic groups of the Jewish Community Center, and refreshments will be served.

Library Acquisitions

The book, "Commercial Education in Secondary Schools," mentioned as a recent acquisition to the University Library, was not written by "Holt" as stated in last week's Hatchet, but by President Marvin, while he was at the University of California, Southern Branch. It was published by Henry Holt and Company, New York, 1922.

The preface to the book states: "Recognition of the fact that commercial education has a definite place in the public vocational program has resulted in many questions concerning the definition of the field for which commercial education should train, concerning the efficiency of current facilities for commercial education, and concerning the range, methods of organization and presentation of commercial work offered. It is the purpose of this book to analyze such questions as the foregoing, to define commercial education, and to establish fundamental principles by which further progress should be guided."

Drama Club Group Makes Change in Membership Rule

Miss Constance Brown, lecturer on play production in the University.

The Drama Club has elected four honorary members: Professors Willard Hayes Yeager, DeWitt Clinton Croissant, Prof. Robert Whitney Bolwell and Miss Brown.

Members of the club in good standing are Joseph Danzansky, Leo David, Mary Davis, Martin Gallagher, Karl Gay, Ada Green, Michael Greenberg, Wally Hayes, Florence Jacobs, John Madigan, Phyllis Mills, Edwin Northrop, Stephen Nyman, Archie Oram, Sol Orleans, Hartwell Parker, Lillian Spector, Hazen Shea, Hannah Stolar, May Sykes, John Vivian, Frank Westbrook, Winifred Whitney, and Louise Wright.

Associate members are Ida Anderson, William Bogardus, Jane Caskey, Amanda Chittum, Alice Colton, Burke Drury, William Fitch, Adele Gusack, George Hutto, Newell Lusby, Carroll Nash, Jane Rhoades, Dorothy Sedgewick, Eleanor Spencer, Leonard Stevens, Henry Stewart and Allan Swingle.

Notre D-A-M-E Speaking

The Rev. Charles Leo O'Donnell, president of Notre Dame, has announced that the name of the University has been officially Anglicized and that it is now as incorrect to pronounce the "Dame" as "Dom" as it is to speak of a "bawth" down on the farm.

Delta Phi Epsilon Hears Donaldson at Rush Smoker

political relationships are most strained, for beneath the restraints of formal expressions is to be found a tenseness probably greater than at any time since the war. Opinion in "neutral" countries such as Switzerland and Sweden, seem to confirm the impression that much of this ill-feeling runs against France, which in turn justifies its position by stressing its need of security.

Some Want Another War

Among the scores of cures proposed for the depression is the fantastic idea, held by many persons, that a "good big war" would solve the problem.

In the face of extremely difficult political problems, the League of Nations, Dr. Donaldson reported, is generally conceded to be at an unusually low ebb in political effectiveness, although he believes the League is still helpful in the solution of purely technical economic questions. The greatest flaws in the international economic process, in Dr. Donaldson's opinion, are financial, and involve maladjustments in the gold flow, currency stability, and the relationships of various currencies.

Probably the greatest need is for international coordination of banking and currency. Free from political and sentimental complications, certain economic phenomena, such as world cartels and trusts, the International Chamber of Commerce and the Bank for International Settlements afford much that is constructive in the gradual evolution of a better integrated world order.

One of the guests, present at the meeting, was Dr. Rowdybush, a visitor from the Georgetown chapter, who is now giving special foreign service courses at Georgetown in concentrated form for potential foreign service men in preparation for Department of Commerce and Department of State foreign service examinations.

University Women Stage Basketball Demonstration

The annual basketball demonstration, given by the Basketball Rating Committee of the District of Columbia, will be held in the George Washington University gym on Thursday night at 7:30. Miss Lawrence, physical education instructor here, is the chairman.

Miss Marie Simes, national rules interpretation chairman, will be present to referee the basketball game and interpret the rules.

A picked group of G. W. students will demonstrate the new center pass. Before the game these students will give a short demonstration of fundamentals for the benefit of students who have conditions.

This meeting is open to all who are interested.

which would include all the members of women's national Greek letter organizations in the District.

It is hoped by the members of the general committee that out of this first Panhellenic event, a permanent Panhellenic organization of the District of Columbia will grow. A committee on Panhellenic organization with Mrs. C. M. Jansky, Alpha Delta Gamma, has drawn up a constitution and plans for such an association, which will be submitted to National Panhellenic Congress for approval.

Since the District of Columbia is the hub of the Bi-Centennial celebration this year, it is thought that this is a particularly appropriate time to gather together all the members of national college sororities in Washington. Headquarters for National Panhellenic Sororities during the Bi-Centennial year are at the Willard Hotel. There is a file kept of the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all national fraternity women in the city. Miss Helen Dyer, Delta Gamma, is vice chairman of the general committee and Miss Maude O'Flaherty, Kappa Delta, is secretary-treasurer. Chairmen of the other committees are as follows: Miss Emyrtrude Valden, Chi Omega, invitations; Miss Myrna Sedgewick, Pi Beta Phi, arrangements; Mrs. J. H. Laish, Sigma Kappa, publicity; Mrs. George C. Schaffer, Alpha Chi Omega, program; Miss Judith Wood, Alpha Delta Theta, Panhellenic Headquarters.

Poetry Club Discusses Works of Amy Lowell

The last two meetings of the Modern Poetry Club have been devoted to Amy Lowell, the New England poetess. Winifred Whitney, in charge of the meeting Wednesday, December 16, gave an interesting account of Miss Lowell's life. She followed this by reading from several of Amy Lowell's well-known books of verse. The selections read included "Lilacs," "The Lady," and "Congressional Library."

Miss Whitney gave her own dramatic interpretation of the poem "Patterns." Wednesday, January 6, this program was again presented by Miss Whitney. Reviews of the works of Amy Lowell, which appeared in Boston and New York papers, were read. The books "Sword Blades" and "Legends," were especially well mentioned. From these Miss Whitney read "The Captured Goddess," "Music," and "Benjamin Baily," a ballad.

The next meeting of the club, at which the poetry of Robert Frost will be read and discussed, will be conducted by Margaret Richards. This meeting will be held Wednesday, January 13, at 12:30 o'clock in Corcoran Hall 16.

Dr. Carl Speidel Will Talk Before Medical Meeting

Dr. Robert Payne, of Norfolk, Also to Present Paper Before Society

Dr. Carl Caskey Speidel, of the University of Virginia, who last week attained national prominence when he was awarded the annual prize of the American Association for the Advancement of Science for the outstanding scientific discovery of the year, the most important scientific award in this country, will come to Washington on Saturday, January 16, to present a paper before the George Washington University Medical Society at its monthly meeting.

At this same meeting Dr. Robert L. Payne, chief surgeon of St. Vincent's Hospital and the Protestant Hospital in Norfolk, will present a paper on a surgical subject.

Dr. Speidel's paper, dealing with "The Process of Nerve Regeneration," will consider some aspects of the three-year investigation which won signal recognition. This study of the process of nerve growth settled conclusively a question in neurology the answer to which has been sought since 1880. Through microscopic observation of living nerves, Dr. Speidel demonstrated that nerves grow from a single cell, and not in a chain series as had been supposed.

Native of Washington

Dr. Speidel is a native of this city. He studied at Lafayette College, the University of Pennsylvania and Princeton University, from which latter institution he holds the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. He is a member of the faculty of the University of Virginia Medical School, teaching anatomy, histology and biology.

His brother, Dr. Francis Speidel, is a Washington physician, a graduate of The George Washington University Medical School and a member of the Medical Society.

At the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science held in New Orleans during the Christmas recess, the paper of a George Washington University Medical graduate, Dr. Leon Stuart Gordon, was selected as the best presented before the Medical Section, and was thus one of those considered for the annual award.

A forward step in the battle against leprosy was reported at the meeting when Dr. Earl Baldwin McKinley, Dean of The George Washington University School of Medicine, and Dr. Malcolm H. Siple, of the University of Michigan, announced that they had isolated the organism which presumably causes this distress and had succeeded in growing it outside the human body. A specialist in tropical diseases, Dean McKinley, has served as Field Director of the Rockefeller Foundation in Manila, as a member of the advisory committee to the Governor General of the Philippines for the control of leprosy, and as director of the School of Tropical Medicine of the University of Porto Rico.

WHAT ARE YOU MISSING?

NO one can want anything until he knows of its existence.

That is why ancient folk managed to live fairly contented lives without window glass, soap, automobiles, stoves, tooth-brushes, telephones and so many of the things we consider the bare necessities of life.

Advertising has done more than any one thing to make this era of ours so rich in comforts and conveniences. To advertising is directly due much of the multiplication of products and services which are now at the disposal of everyone.

There is no denying the fact that advertising has ironed out the mechanics of existence. It has made life easier and more pleasant by bringing to our attention countless necessities which years ago a king's ransom could not have bought.

Folks dress better, eat better, sleep better, and live better because of advertising.

You owe much to advertising—and you miss much when you fail to read it.

Pre-Registration Period Opens; Will Continue Until January 27

Registration Is Necessary In All Cases; Bring or Mail Attached Form To Registrar's Office; Have Programs Approved While There Is Plenty of Time

Advance registration for the second semester which opened yesterday, will continue through Wednesday, January 27, it is announced by Fred E. Newell, registrar.

During this period students now enrolled in the University who expect to continue their work next semester may plan their schedules with the assistance of deans and advisers, execute the necessary forms, and complete registration, thus avoiding the inconveniences of the more crowded regular period.

Attention is called to the fact that registration for the second semester is necessary in all cases, even though the student's program for the second semester be identical with that of the first semester.

The procedure for advance registration is as follows:

Immediately following this article is printed a form which should be filled in at once by all students of the University (except Medical students, who need not re-register). Students in all schools except the Law School should bring or mail the notice to the Registrar's Office, Building G. Law students should leave the notice at the Law School office.

The necessary forms for registration, together with full instructions for their execution, will be issued to students upon receipt of the form mentioned above.

Conferences with deans and advisers may be arranged during the period from January 11 to January 27. In the case of law students, the period of advance registration continues only until January 24.

The approval of the program having been secured from the dean or adviser, registration forms should then be filed at the Registrar's Office.

Pay Before February 9

Initial payment of tuition should be made on or before Tuesday, February 9 in all schools, except the Law School. Law students should make their initial payment on or before Saturday, January 30. A statement of tuition charges will be given at the time of registration. The usual late registration fee will apply if payment has not been made by the above dates.

In the case of necessary changes in schedule due to failure of pre-requisite courses, the change may be made until February 23 without charge.

Students entering the University from high school or transferring from other colleges or universities will register February 8 and 9, except in the Law School where second semester registration for new students will take place January 29 and 30.

To the Registrar:

The undersigned student, now registered in _____ College Division expects to continue in the University during the second semester of the academic year 1931-32.

Name _____

Address _____

(All students of the University, other than Medical students, should fill in and return this notice as soon as possible. Law students should leave the notice at the Law School office. Other students should bring or mail the notice to the Registrar's Office, Building G.)

Chapel Services

Attention is invited to the chapel program planned for Friday, January 15. The principal speaker will be Dr. T. T. Roberts, former president of Randolph College, and the devotions will be led by Dr. H. H. Harmon of the National City Christian Church, Dr. Harvey Baker Smith of Columbia Heights Christian Church, and Dr. Clifford E. Jope of the Ninth Street Christian Church. Of special interest to lovers of sacred music will be a solo by Mrs. Helen Turley, outstanding contralto singer and teacher of this city.

These people bring much of spiritual worth and dignity to our chapel exercises and it is urged that students and faculty show their appreciation by attending. So much is being said about the need of Christianity these days we can hardly spend twenty minutes more profitably than by supporting the chapel each Friday at 12:10 in Room 10, Corcoran Hall.

All members of the Brotherhood of Disciples of Christ are especially urged to attend and meet these leading clergymen of their faith.

FRED E. NESSELL,
NORMAN B. AMES,
Provost's Committee in Charge.

Cooking by German Chef

In New Jenner's Cafeteria

Herr Munzner, who presides over the kitchens of the New Jenner's Cafeteria, which opened December 31 at 1819 G street, learned his art in a somewhat different manner than do most chefs. He attended cooking schools in Germany.

In America, they think of a "cooking school" as a newspaper publicity stunt to be more or less casually attended by housewives only. The German idea of a cooking school is almost exactly the opposite of ours, for in Germany, cooking schools are exclusively for men and the students enroll in the cooking courses with the same serious professional viewpoint as in courses of medicine or law.

The cafeteria is operated by Mr. and Mrs. John E. Jenner. Mr. Jenner also acts as an instructor in the food department of a hotel training school.

sportsmanship and perhaps credit to its derivation.

Another difference is that the Englishman does not choke his sports with too many rules. But when a rule is once made, he regards the spirit of it, and not the letter. He does not put the rule book under the microscope, in the hope of discovering some loophole such as certain American coaches have done. The Englishman does not understand violations of a technical nature to gain one's end. He would not call such violations clever; he would call them rotten sportsmanship.

I cannot believe that the American temperament is suited to the true idea of sportsmanship. It is suited to certain notions which constitute our own private brand of sportsmanship. That is, we say that we are playing a game under certain rules, and if we trespass upon the rule there is a penalty, and that therefore it is our privilege to trespass, and that it is more or less our privilege to trespass, and that it is more or less our duty to trespass, provided that the loss sustained by the penalty is of less moment than the gain obtained by the contravention.

Concerning coaches and sports instructors, the difference between us and our brothers across the Atlantic is all in the attitude. The Britishers take their game in a personal way and play it themselves, while we look on football as a sport to be engaged in by a certain selective superlative few.

In short, rugby is a game—football is a spectacle with a dash of sincerity. I hardly think it true to say American football has derived from a "lack of sportsmanship," as much of this idealistic quality may be found in our gridiron struggles. Then, too, substitution is only one phase of our sport. However, the idea about no substitutions has its advantages.

As for American sportsmanship, I think that our sportsmanship has been warped and hampered by the rules; and not the rules by our sportsmanship.

"SUSAN LENOX," Tuesday, Wednesday, Grete Garbo supported by the perfect screen lover, Clark Gable. In this picture David Graham Phillips' great novel comes as the finest triumph of the one and only Garbo.

"THE SIN OF MADEIRA CLAUDET," Thursday, Friday, Helen Hayes, Lewis Stone. The most soul-stirring picture of mother-love since Madam X.

"BOB SISTER," Saturday, James Dunn, Linda Watkins. Both reporters, rivals by day—sweethearts at night. She got his goat, but won his heart.

"FRIENDS AND LOVERS," Next Sunday, Monday, Adolph Menjou, Lily Damita. Beauty and wit matched against a world of blue blood and gold.
